Sainte-Catherine de la Jacques-Cartier is a territory of 120 square kilometers. The great Jacques-Cartier River crosses that from North to South. Of exceptional beauty, this river offers very good quality water that has made possible the re-establishment of Atlantic salmon. Due to its close proximity to large urban centers, this salmon river is one of the most accessible in Quebec. It is also an excellent river for trout fishing and offers great recreational potential, particularly for those who enjoy canoeing and kayaking.

Because the central portion of the river is located in an urban area there are a multitude of services at the disposal of the vacationers. These services make the western portion of Sainte-Catherine-de-la-Jacques-Cartier of the MRC De-la-Jacques-Cartier a popular winter spot.

Thousands of snowmobilers ride the trails maintained by the Jacques–Cartier Snowmobile Club. The municipality is equally involved in the development of cross country skiing and tourism at the Station Duchesnay, located on its territory. The municipality, with the help of its partners, has also built bike paths, which received rave reviews in the leading Quebec newspapers.
Live in "true nature" in Sainte-Catherine-de-la-Jacques-Cartier, where you can benefit from the high-quality water supply. You can also enjoy a host of sporting activities, recreation, community life, without forgetting the culture imbued by the memory of Anne Hébert and Saint-Denis-Garneau.

The residents of Sainte-Catherine-de-la-Jacques-Cartier enjoy an environment of exceptional quality, at the doorstep of Quebec. In 2017, there are 7,574 residents.
