Bessault or Beaussault is the village where Charles Matte, the father of Nicolas is buried. Charles died on Friday, June 28, 1680 and Nicolas’ godfather also named Nicolas died on Wednesday, February 18, 1682. Charles Matte paid 60 pounds to be buried in the Chapelle de la Vierge – Bessault.

Charles was a laborer and merchant. He was 70 years old at his death.

Beaussault

Beaussault is a small village located in the north of France. It is located in the Seine-Maritime region of Normandy. Beaussault is located in the Dieppe Arrondissement and the Forges-aux-eaux District. Postal code of the village is 76870 and the Insee Code is 76065. The inhabitants are referred to as Beaussaultois or Beaussaultoises. The village is located at an altitude of 137 meters. It is covers an area of 18.30 km². Latitude is 49.686 degrees North and longitude of 1.565 degrees East. Nearby villages: Compainville (76440) à 2.45 km, Mesnil-Mauger (76440) à 3.77 km, Nesle-Hodeng (76270) à 4.71 km, Le Thil-Riberpré (76440) à 4.99 km, Beaubec-la-Rosière (76440) à 5.06 km.

Population and housing: According to the 1999 Census, the population of Beaussault was 367, in 2006 it was 381, 383 in 2007, 390 in 2009 and 417 in 2017. The population density is 22,8 residents per km². The number of residences was 206 in 2007. These residences consist of 149 principal residences, 37 secondary or occasional residences and 20 vacant residences.

The Department of Seine-Maritime is a Department of France in Western Europe. It has 1 264 107 inhabitants. The density of the population of the Department of Seine-Maritime is therefore 204,6 inhabitants per km².

Le Havre, Rouen and Dieppe are the largest cities in the Department of Seine-Maritime among the 718 cities that compose it. The ocean climate, with temperate, is the main climate of the Department of Seine-Maritime.

With the Department of Calvados, the Department of Eure, the Department of the Manche and the Department of Orne, the Department of Seine-Maritime is a part of the region of Normandy.
Here is a listing of the nearby towns:

- Compainville 2.5 km
- Mesnil-Mauger 3.5 km
- Le Thil-Riberpré 4.8 km
- Nesle-Hodeng 4.8 km
- Beaubec-la-Rosière 5 km
- Graval 5 km
- Saint-Saire 5.1 km
- Gaillefontaine 5.2 km
- Conteville 5.3 km
- Flamets-Frêtils 5.5 km
- Bouelles 5.8 km
- Serqueux 6.3 km
Charles Matte and buried in this place and Nicolas, the Godfather in the Church.
Mister Anthoine Harache was a venerable and diserette person in his time. The Priest (Pastor) said three Masses and held a vigil on the 14th day of January he intends to give 50 sout 3 of inequitable land rent to be taken on a house of Thomas Tacel located on the other side of Gralenois Road. The contract passed at St Serre on 4 August 1612.

Maisse : Mass
Ceans : place
Obi t: Mout, Death
St Serre = St Saire
Author : Lucien Dubois, Aug. 10 2015
Monsieur Lucien Dubois, died in 2017. He was related to us through Nicolas paternal grandmother (Barbe Harache). The research complete in the Rouen region was, for the most part, completed by Lucien.